

Cost-Effective Management

Employers strive to attract and retain top employees with competitive benefits programs. As support staffing slowly shrinks and workload requirements continue to increase, maintaining a cost-effective benefits program, communicating with carriers, and educating employees can be a daunting proposition for HR administrators.

Streamlined Benefits Administration

Transcend Technologies' Group Benefits ManagerHR (GBM-HR) is a complete solution for managing employer benefits programs. GBM-HR decreases administration costs by reducing time, paperwork, and staffing requirements. It improves data accuracy through intelligent, self-populating forms and provides HR administrators with detailed census reports. A centralized communication portal enables HR administrators to easily access and share information.
